

We have been called the industry bible

(but are a lot quicker to read)

Legal Technology Insider – read by all serious legal IT professionals

We are read by all the UK's leading IT professionals because, like you, their time is precious

We bring you only the real legal IT news as it happens.
No advertorial, recycled press releases or publicity puffs.

What do you get with the Insider?

We give you pure editorial news, written by Charles Christian the UK's leading legal IT commentator. He makes sure you get just the facts on new products, applications, latest orders, corporate news, analysis and future trends.

All leading legal IT professionals subscribe

The Insider is a 100% subscription newsletter with a readership of over 7000 in the UK and worldwide.

We are read cover to cover

If you develop, buy, sell, implement, support or manage legal IT systems, the Insider makes fascinating reading. (Readership surveys reveal that it is read cover to cover the moment it arrives.) The Insider has been called the industry bible and has a long shelf life as a reference source.

And there is more
